This correspondence is to notify you that the Employment Development Department (EDD) received information from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that your business is using a federal employer identification number (FEIN), 33-4130392, that we do not have in our system.

If you are not currently registered as an employer with the EDD and have employees in California, you must register with the EDD. You may register online using the EDD e-Services for Business at edd.ca.gov/e-Services_for_Business.

If you are already registered as an employer with the EDD, you may need to update your information if your business had a change in status. You can update your FEIN and make other changes to your employer payroll tax account using the EDD e-Services for Business at edd.ca.gov/e-Services_for_Business. Once logged into e-Services for Business, select the employer payroll tax account number (in blue), then select the "Update Account Info" tab and submit your update request. Please provide the reason for the update or change.

The IRS may issue a new FEIN for different qualifying events. A few examples are:

- You incorporate or become a Limited Liability Company.
- You are a sole proprietor and take in partners and operate as a partnership.
- The corporation becomes a partnership or a sole proprietorship.
- One partner takes over and operates as a sole proprietorship.
- You receive a new corporate charter.

It is imperative that the EDD have the most up-to-date information regarding the qualifying event that initiated the issuance of the new FEIN including the date of the change.

If you need assistance, please contact the Taxpayer Assistance Center at 1-888-745-3886 or TTY 1-800-547-9565, or visit the EDD website at edd.ca.gov.

If you have never had California employees or your employees are not subject to the California Unemployment Insurance Code, please disregard this notice.
